Spider-man intro

Host 1: The new Spider-Man movie is out and it promises to impress.

Host 2: Yeah, thankfully I managed to get some tickets.

Host 1: So, what do you think of the trailer?

Host 2: It's amazing! It showed a lot of exciting footage. I can't wait to see the movie!

Host 1: Me too! Here's a sneak peek at the Spider-Man No Way Home movie!

Spider-man Trailer plays*

Host 1: I can't believe this movie is gonna have villains that we first saw 19 years ago!

Host 2: It's crazy to think that most of us weren't even born when the first Spider-Man movie came out.

Host 1: This'll definitely be a movie for the ages.

Del-ta-roon intro

Host 1: Big news for you epic gamers! Toby Fox, the creator of the hit RPG game Undertale, recently released chapter 2 of his new game, Del-ta-roon!

Host 2: Please don't ever say "epic gamers" again. And what's Del-ta-roon? The only games I keep hearing about are Cookie Run, Fortnite and... uh... Among Us...

Host 1: Del-ta-roon is a game where players get to solve puzzles and choose to either fight or befriend monsters to "beat" the game.

Host 2: Cool, that sounds like a challenge! Let's check out the trailer!

Del-ta-roon video plays*

Host 2: What a cute dog! And the gameplay does look pretty cool. I think the music was my favourite part though.

Host 1: Yeah I agree the soundtrack is amazing. And it's free!

Host 2: Awesome! Maybe I will check it out.

Host 1: Great! And for the rest of our audience, give Toby Fox's new game Deltarune a try!

Metaverse Intro

Host 1: Just months ago, Mark Zuckerberg, CEO of Facebook, announced the rebranding of the company to "Meta" in order to embrace "the evolution of the next internet".

Host 2: The "Metaverse", is the rebranding of Facebook. It is a new step of virtual and augmented reality that will allow users to "live" inside a 3-D digital universe.

Host 1: This means you can have access to a "second life" in the virtual world. So imagine the potential this technology has without even leaving your home!

Host 1: Let's take a look at what this could mean for students.

Metaverse video plays*

Host 1: Being able to attend field trips from home would be amazing, especially since the pandemic has prevented us from attending anything.

Host 2: This definitely has the potential to make learning more immersive!

National Indigenous Day Intro

Host 1: Today marks 20 years since Canada declared National Indigenous Peoples' Day.

Host 2: Many non-Indigenous people have gathered alongside the Indigenous to express solidarity as well as reconcile with the Peoples.

Host 1: Let us take a look at what one Indigenous community has done to acknowledge this day.

National Indigenous Day video plays*

Host 1: Remember, National Indigenous Peoples' Day is not a celebration, but a day to reconcile and remember those whose lives were lost in Residential Schools.

Rudolph gets wrecked intro

Host 1: I can't wait for the holidays! All the presents, the lights, and the movie marathons.

Host 2: Yeah I'm excited too! I'm also looking forward to rewatching some classics with my family. Like Rudolph the red nosed reindeer!

Host 1: Speaking of reindeer, a woman named Arlene from B.C. witnessed her reindeer decoration get wrecked by a real one! Arlene's decoration had a lightbulb attached to its nose which seemed to attract real reindeer.

Host 2: A plastic decoration with a lightbulb as its nose? The reindeer thought that was real competition? Now this I've gotta see.

Rudolph the red nosed reindeer video plays*

Host 2: Wow, he really did a hit-and-run. I didn't know reindeer could be so aggressive!

Host 1: Male reindeer are actually pretty violent this time of year. They often get into antler fights over territory! That's probably why this one tried attacking the decoration.

Host 2: Never thought I'd see the day when our friendly Rudolph got into a battle to the death!

Host 1: I know right? I for one prefer the kid friendly version. Much less violent and a lot more festive. Just the right thing to get into a festive mood for the holidays!
